Tuition Assistance Frequently Asked Questions

What income levels qualify for tuition assistance?

Tuition assistance at Wellington is based on each family's income and financial obligations. That being said, we offer tuition assistance to many income levels.

What grades are eligible for tuition assistance?

Assistance is available for prekindergarten through grade 12.

Is there a discount for multiple child families?

Yes, Wellington offers a discount for families that enroll 4 children or more.

Does the merit scholarship renew annually?

Yes, our merit scholarship renews annually and stays with the student as long as the student is in good standing.

In the case of divorce, do both parents need to file with SSS?

Yes, both parents need to file. It helps us understand the family's financial picture.

This question is often followed by the comment that the ex-spouse is not a part of the child's life and that the ex-spouse does not contribute to the financial support of the student. In that case, we ask that you provide documentation.

Does the financial aid award change over the years?

The award can change just as your financial profile changes. The reason families file annually is to confirm the family's need. If your financial profile, remains relatively the same, the financial aid award will likely do the same.

Can a grandparent or other family member outside the home pay for the student's tuition?

The answer is yes! As it turns out, there are several families where relatives/other family members contribute to the student's tuition.

Can the tuition be paid by credit card?

The answer is yes. However, the you will also pay a credit card fee for the amount of tuition that you charge, and those charges can be costly.

Do we include any information if we are paying for any type of tuition for another child?

Absolutely, a family may be paying for childcare, preschool or perhaps, college. The PFS that you are completing provides a place for you to list that information and by all means, include any tuition costs that you are paying for another child.

The Wellington Admissions team is available to assist you in any way that we can. Please call or email us if we can be of help!
